

Preventing Violence in the Workplace for Employees

Length: 1 Day

Summary: This is an introductory course designed for all employees. It will define the often confusing dynamic of workplace violence and review prevention strategies for different types of violence issues. The course emphasizes the importance of the support and participation of all employees. All employees must learn how to recognize the behavioral warning signs and then carry through with their responsibility to report any incidents or disturbing observations.

Learning Outcomes:

Once the course is completed, one will have a better understanding of the definition of workplace violence, and be better able to report threats, as well as execute skills in averting violence.

Course Content

- Introduction
 - Defining Workplace Violence
 - Reporting Threats
 - Identifying Warning Signs
 - Violence From Outside the Workplace
 - Averting Violence
-